PRIMARY or SECONDARY?

Follow this flowchart to find out!

What type of media is it? written visual (book, article, etc.) (image, film, etc.) Did you find it in another source (a photograph in a ves no book, a clip in a documentary, etc.)? When was it made? Pause! Some secondary sources can also use primary sources. For example, a book about Lewis and Clark's expedition might around the same after my topic include a map drawn by William Clark. In this time as my topic case, the map is a primary source, but the book that includes Who is the author/creator? it is a secondary source. Continue, but make sure you're answering based on the image or quote you someone who wasn't want to cite, not someone involved involved in my topic iust where you found it! in my topic Where does the author/creator seem to get their information? firsthand knowledge (indicated by pronouns research (indicated by citations, like "I" and "me") quotes, or a bibliography) It's most It's most likely a... likely a... PRIMARY SECONDARY SOURCE! SOURCE!

